FUNERAL.

Bernard Higgins.

Bernard Higgins, whose funeral was held in New London on Friday from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Samuel Billings, 11 Jefferson avenue, was one of the oldest Irish residents of that city. He came there in 1848 from County Armagh, where he was 14 years of age. He learned the trade of machinist and in latter life took up farming, which he continued until a year ago, when he had an accident in which he lost both legs. Mr. Higgins is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Bridget Lawless, with whom he has united in marriage on Jan. 1, 1873. Nine children were born to them, four sons, Daniel L. of Oakdale, Bernard W., of Winsted, John J. of New London and Charles H.
of Montreal, and five daughters, Mrs. James McGrath of Lebanon, Mrs. George M. Cleary of New London, Mrs. George P. Brown of New Haven, Mrs. Fred P. King of Plainfield, and Mrs. John A. McGrath, who died April 3, 1903. Two brothers, Daniel of New London, William of Wash-

Y. M. C. A. ANNIVERSARY SERVICE

General Secretary Will Reported Successful Work of the Past Years—Outlined Needs for the Future—Fred W. Smith of New York and F. L. Willis of Worcester Made

Speeches—Work Genuine and Efficient.

Our membership numbers 738 and comprises men and boys from all walks of life and all meet on a common plane; the young man or boy is as plain as the one who wears the finest clothes and I am sure we all desire it so.

We wish to emphasize the fact that all men and boys of good moral character are invited to join the association; the annual dues are small and we are pleased to have a wide range of the possibilities of a work like ours.

Then we greatly need a swimming pool; but we need a building where we cannot have one; we need bowling alleys, but have no room for them; we need increased bathing facilities, but lack of space puts ourselves with all of our enthusiasm into the work and the co-operation of our loyal auxiliary, our strong, and with the leadership of such men as constitute our directorate, and God back of it all, who would dare say it is impossible?

Mostly the work of the year, permanent, determination, enthusiasm.

To Those Who Have Helped.

One of the most practical improvements in the building was made possible by the ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, who most generously contributed to the beautiful sanitary drinking fountain for the library.

We desire to thank the members of the employed force for their faithfulness to duty and what success we have had in no small measure to their service. We certainly wish to thank the ministers of the city, and we gratefully extend to them our thanks for the services during the year.

The newspapers of the city have played an important part in keeping our work before the public, and we appreciate the help they have given us, and extend to the editors and reporters our sincere thanks. Every individual who has in any way assisted us during the year we desire to express our appreciation, and it will be constant aim to do so in the future.

For the Future.

We are tonight standing on a threshold between a year of service rendered and a year of unknown duties and privileges; that these duties be large and no one can doubt. The question is, Will we measure up to the expectations of him whose we are and whom we serve? We certainly wish we, just now, catch the vision in all of its breadth of possibility, remembering that every young man and boy who is included in our field of endeavor and has a right to claim our friendship, our love and our service, and our aim must be to influence them to follow the Man Jesus, who alone is worthy to be followed and who alone is competent to lead.

Fred W. Smith Spoke.

Following a hymn, President Case introduced Fred W. Smith of New York, who made a brief address on the merits of the Y. M. C. A., in which he said that he has been identified with the Y. M. C. A. for 35 years and that during that time he has become convinced that the Y. M. C. A. work is thoroughly genuine.
